Appropriation Totals $1,477,542

School Board '57 Spending To Set Record

The Salem Board of Education last night approved a record $1,477,542 appropriation for 1957, an increase of $439,359 over the 1956 appropriation of $1,038,183.

Major reason for the increased appropriation was additional construction costs reflected in bonds to be retired and interest on the bonds.

The sinking fund, including bond retirement and interest on bonds, this year will total $423,145.44, an increase of $222,957.10 over the $200,188.34 appropriated for the sinking fund last year.

Salem has begun retiring a $2,585,000 bond issue voted at the November, 1955 election for the construction of a new senior high school near E. 6th St.

The appropriation is based on resources estimated by the County Budget Commission.

The board appropriated the full amount of $1,477,542 which the budget commission estimated will be available to the board this year.

Supt. of Schools E. S. Kerr said he does not expect that the full amount will be available, however. Supt. Kerr and School Business Manager Darrell M. Fadely recommended, that the board appropriate the full amount so as to be covered in case the money becomes available.

U.N. Split On Next Middle East Steps

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Faced with widely divergent views over steps to be taken in Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba areas after Israel withdraws, the U.N. Assembly suspended its debate today to await developments.

No date was fixed for the next meeting, but the Assembly was expected to convene later this week to hear a report from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

No opposition was expressed to the temporary takeover of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area by the U.N. Emergency Force. But there was widespread difference of opinion on these two questions:

1. The right of free passage through the Strait of Tiran into the Gulf of Aqaba as demanded by Israel and upheld by the United States and other maritime powers.

2. The eventual administration of the Gaza Strip and its 300,000 Arabs, two thirds of them Palestine refugees living on U.N. relief allotments.

Britain, Italy, the Netherlands and Belgium were among the maritime powers lining up in the Assembly with the United States in contending that the Strait of Tiran is an international waterway through which Israeli and other shipping is entitled to free passage.

An Israeli delegation source said that his country in its negotiations in recent weeks, especially in Washington, had achieved "very close to the guarantee" of free passage which Israel sought.

But Mohammed Fadhil Jamali of Arab Iraq said this was only one aspect of the Palestine problem. "We cannot consider passage through the Gulf of Aqaba as different from the passage of Palestine Arab refugees to their own homes," he declared.

India Disputes Stand He called attention to India's stand that the Strait of Tiran is Egyptian territorial water, and to a suggestion from Columbia that the International Court of Justice should decide the matter.

An Israeli source said his country's primary "expectation" is that the U.N. Emergency Force and other U.N. agencies will maintain responsibility for administration of Gaza until a definite Israeli-Egyptian settlement is reached.

Discuss Ways Of Attracting New Teachers

Board Discusses Better Pay, Hires 2 New Instructors

Two new teachers were appointed by the Board of Education last night, following which the board discussed briefly the growing teacher shortage.

Appointed were Mrs. Tommie Largent as a history teacher in the junior high school and Miss Sally Moore as kindergarten teacher at Buckeye School.

Mrs. Largent, of 755 E. 5th St., is a 1935 graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. She majored in commerce, mathematics and English. She taught in Columbian, La., in 1934-37 and in Fields, La. from 1937 until 1944.

Miss Moore, of 1113 Franklin St., has been attending Albion College and Ohio University. She is majoring in elementary education and plans to complete work for her degree in summer sessions.

Supt. Kerr told the board that many substitute teachers are working full time to help alleviate the teacher shortage.

Board member Dr. Donald Lease commented that Salem should take steps to attract more teachers, especially younger ones. He said Salem's salary schedule benefits older teachers with more experience.

He said the salary schedule should be revised so as to attract young teachers who would then make a career of teaching in Salem schools.

Supt. Kerr pointed out that Ohio will need 1,500 teachers next fall, who will not be available from the colleges. This means, he said, that the schools will have to recruit mothers who haven't taught for years and teachers who haven't completed their training or quit school before getting a degree.

Lease declared that Salem is ahead of most cities in providing an excellent school plant, but that Salem also should move ahead on salaries to keep the quality of teaching on an equal level with the city's fine schools.

Board President Alfred Fitch said he agreed that the salaries offered for the first few years of teaching should be increased in Salem so as to attract young teachers.

He added that the same applies

'Bomb' Blast In Hanoverton Being Probed

HANOVERTON — A homemade "bomb" device left on the rear porch of Mayor Howard Hart's home Saturday night caused little damage and much excitement in this village, as residents who heard the explosion recalled the gas line broke Friday morning at 4 which rocked the sleeping village.

However, the bomb only broke three panes of glass from a storm door leading into the Hart kitchen. The explosive device was a red rubber balloon filled with acetylene gas and apparently lighted with a fuse which has not been found.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hart, former Cleveland residents who came here to reside 6 years ago, were watching television in the living room of their home when the explosion occurred at 11:45 p.m. Saturday.

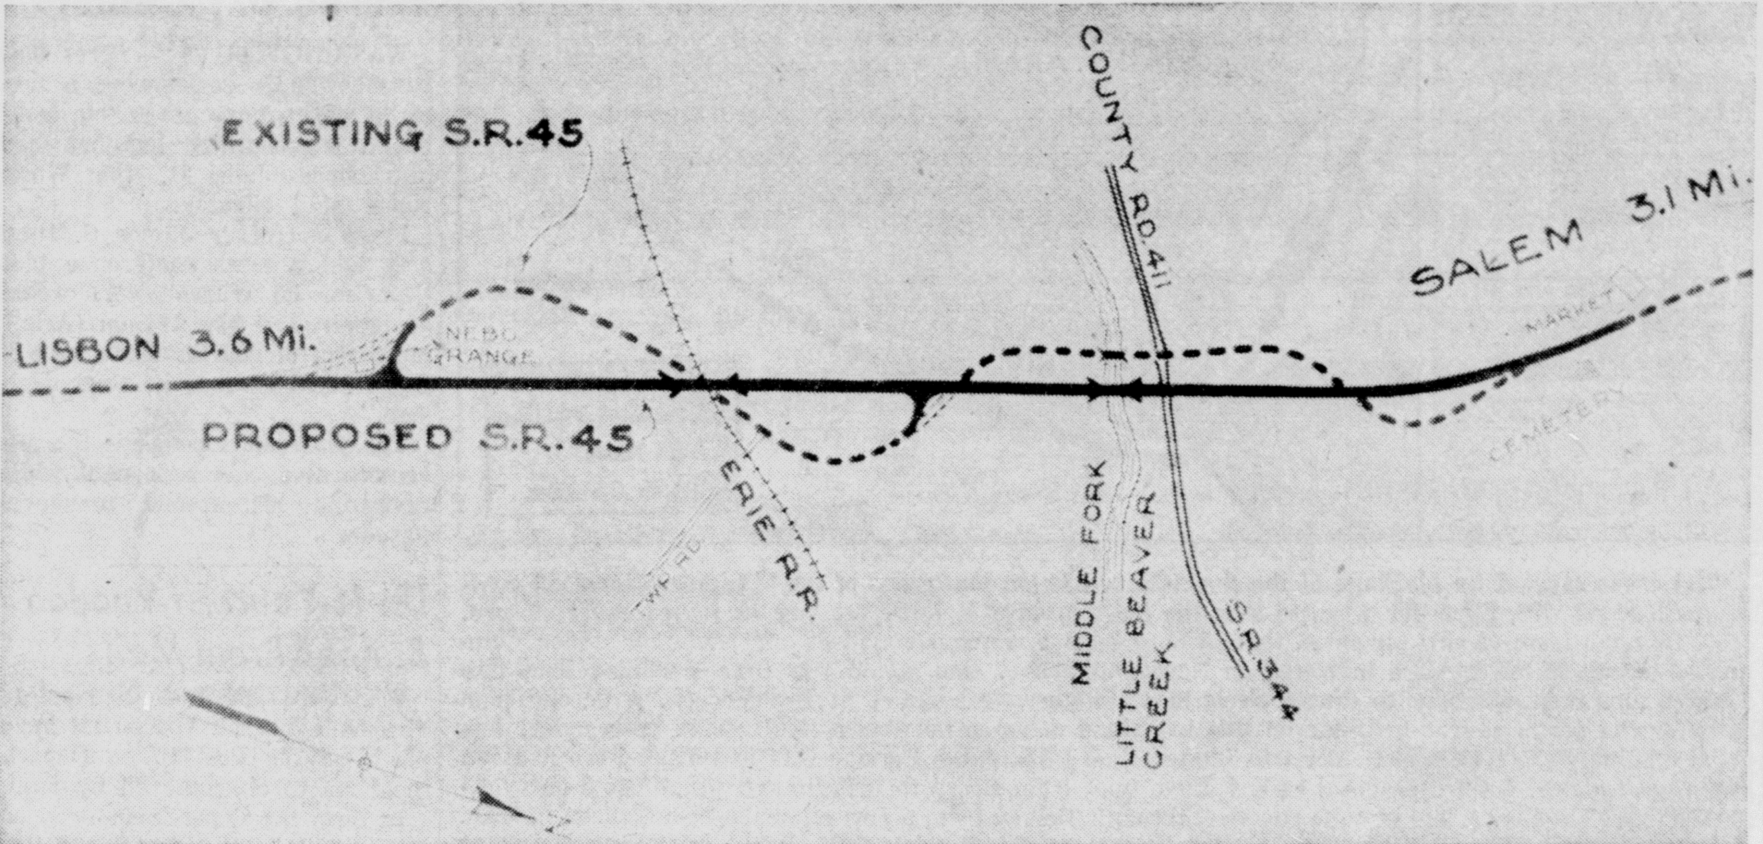

However, the sound could be heard by residents three blocks away from the Hart house which is situated at the corner of Plymouth and Canal Sts.

Hanover Township Constable Roy Painter is investigating the case, although no suspects have been

State to Take Kinks Out of Rt. 45 South of Here

Improvement of a two-mile stretch of Route 45 south of here will eliminate five curves and hills on the Salem-Lisbon road, according to a drawing submitted today by the State Highway Department.

Dotted line on the artist's sketch above shows the present path of the highway. The heavy black line traces the straight path the new road will take when constructed.

Jack Kimble, assistant division engineer of location and design for the highway department, said the $850,000 project will be advertised for letting sometime this summer but that actual work probably will not start till next year.

Beginning at a point three and six-tenths of a mile north of Lisbon, the new stretch of highway will extend northward past Mt. Nebo grange hall, across the Erie Railroad tracks at Long's Crossing, over the Middle Fork of Little Beaver Creek and on to converge with existing Route 45 near Zeigler's Market, three and a tenth miles south of Salem.

Sufficient right-of-way will be purchased to provide for a double lane of traffic if it is needed at some future date, Kimble said.

The re-location of Route 45 includes an overpass at the Erie railroad tracks and a new bridge over Little Beaver Creek. The new highway section will be limited access. Old portions of the road will be abandoned once the project is completed, Kimble explained. Abutting property owners will have adequate accesses to the new road, he explained.

Several property owners protested the improvement at a hearing held here by the state highway department Feb. 19 but county commissioners, Salem city council and planning commission members voiced approval of the improvement.

Board Puts Clerk On Job At New School

Clyde Wright, the Board of Education's maintenance supervisor, Monday was named clerk of the works for the construction of the new Salem Senior High School.

The board assigned Wright to full-time duties of inspecting the construction on the new school and reporting back to the board on the contractor's progress.

The Freeman Construction Co. of Wooster will erect the $2,100,000 building.

Wright was voted a salary of $475 a month until the new school is completed, expected to be before the September, 1958 term begins.

The contractor has built an access road beginning at the former Bennett property on N. Lincoln Ave., eastward along high ground.

Two corrugated metal culverts have been placed to allow surface water run-off to flow northward under the access road. A ditching machine has arrived to lay the drainage sewer.

Supt. E. S. Kerr reported that the industrial arts wing of the school probably will be started first.

He said that the contractor has done considerable work in clearing

Survey Shows Students Cheat

Found To Be Custom At Many Colleges

CHICAGO — A survey of American college students indicated today that "systematic cheating on examinations is the custom rather than the exception" at many large colleges.

The survey, conducted by Philip E. Jacob social science professor at the University of Pennsylvania, was prepared for the 12th National Conference on Higher Education.

Morality Is Contrasted

In contrast to what the report called "generally low standards in regard to academic honesty" were findings about college students' standards of sexual morality.

"Despite the boldness of college talk, dress and outward social conduct," it said, "... in personal practice and fundamental belief students generally hold to standards which are thoroughly conventional."

Jacobs' study inquired into what influence colleges and universities have on students' social, moral and religious values.

"The main over-all effect of higher education upon student values," he said, "is to bring about conformity to a body of standards and attitudes of the college-bred man or woman of the American culture..."

Although students generally seemed to profess reasonably high values, Jacob said, "it is with regard to cheating that the chinks in the moral armor of American students are most obvious."

"Frequent cheating is admitted by 40 per cent or more at a large number of colleges, often with no apology or sense of wrong-doing."

Political Rebels Expected To Follow Premier

Rioters Beaten Off; Withdrawal Of Army To Begin Shortly

JERUSALEM — Premier David Ben-Gurion today appeared to be weathering a political revolt against his personal decision to order Israeli troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba coastal area.

Political informants said rebellious parties in the government coalition now were expected to line up with the 70-year-old Premier on a vote of confidence after his explanation today to the Knesset (Parliament) of his withdrawal order. The rebels' support would ensure endorsement of Ben-Gurion's policy.

An Israeli army spokesman in Tel Aviv said actual withdrawal of troops from the Gaza area had not yet started, but that it was expected to begin shortly, probably Wednesday.

Forces Getting Ready

A spokesman for the Israeli military governor in Gaza said forces there "are getting everything ready to move just as soon as UNEF comes in." Asked if the Israeli evacuation might start today or Wednesday, he replied, "Not today anyway."

The spokesman said quiet prevailed among the strip's Arab population and that security measures had been tightened against possible anti-Israeli demonstrations.

There was no word on the start of withdrawal from the Sharm el Sheikh area on the Gulf of Aqaba coast, but a military informant said the evacuation there would be a short operation. He said the withdrawal from the Gaza Strip would require two to three weeks. The pullout from Gaza was expected to be accomplished by stages as the Israelis progressively transferred administration of the strip to U.N. units.

Herut Party Demonstrates

The militant right-wing Herut (Freedom) party called a demonstration in Jerusalem, coinciding with the Premier's speech, to protest what it called the government's "disastrous surrender."

Several hundred persons, mostly students, marched on the Knesset Monday, shouting "Stop the withdrawal!" and calling on Ben-Gurion to resign. Police threw up a cordon to halt the surge and wielded clubs to scatter the demonstrators.

Working under heavy strain and almost to the point of collapse, the white-haired Premier appeared to have overcome the political rebellion by adroit political maneuvering and by presenting his opponents with the accomplished fact of a withdrawal order.

Israeli army headquarters said patrols clashed twice Monday night with small Arab caravans of ammunition-loaded donkeys in the Negev Desert, killing four Arabs in one group. The Israelis said one band was en route from Hebron, in Jordan, to the Gaza Strip while the other was going from Gaza to Hebron.

Most School Children Here Get Polio Vaccine

A large percentage of Salem school children have been inoculated with the Salk vaccine to protect them against infantile paralysis, a report of the local medical committee reveals.

Although parents of children still unprotected are urged to commence the inoculations as soon as possible, a survey shows that when a pre-school examination was held last Sept. 15 a total of 76 per cent of the beginner-age children had started their polio shots.

A health department campaign to have all grade school children inoculated was begun last October and as of Jan. 15 of this year a total of 81 per cent had started receiving the Salk vaccine.

A similar recent canvass of the high school showed that 52 per cent of the high school youths had begun their inoculation series.

Questionnaires were sent home with all school pupils as a means of spurring the drive to have all Salem children inoculated against the crippling disease. Questionnaires returned ultimately found their way back to the family physician.

The medical committee in charge of the survey includes Drs. R. T. Holzbach, health commissioner, Gail A. Rose, W. F. Stephenson and L. C. Ziegler of Salem and Wade Bacon of Lisbon.

In any indigent or financial hardship cases the Salk vaccine will be administered without charge, the committee pointed out.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio veterans of the Korean War can obtain bonus application blanks starting March 11 in all 88 counties.

Bonus Director Chester W. Goble today announced composition of the forms to inform veterans who will apply for bonuses.

"We are releasing this form . . . in our educational and training program which will be in full swing throughout Ohio during the coming week," Goble said.

Goble said applications will be distributed by Ohio National Guard trucks and the Ohio Highway Patrol. They can be obtained by veterans through agencies cooperating with county veterans' service officer in each county between 6 a. m. and noon in county courthouses, memorial buildings or other public buildings in the various counties.

The application, entitled "Form K-1," will have 21 items on both sides of a sheet of paper and a place for applicants to sign and make sworn statements. Printed instructions will accompany the forms.

"We want to do all we can between now and March 11 so all eligible veterans can file accurate applications for the Korean conflict compensation," Goble said. The director said a staff of 20 district representatives will work in all 88 counties to help local communities provide information for veterans.

Bonuses to a maximum of $400 will be paid at the rate of $10 a month for domestic service, and $15 for foreign service between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953.

Another Tragedy Hits West Virginia Family

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — A cerebral hemorrhage that proved fatal to Paul Martin was the latest in a series of tragedies that struck his family during the past five years.

Two of Martin's daughters suffered a rare blood disease in 1952 and Paula, then 4, had her legs amputated to save her life.

The Martins' oldest daughter, 15-year-old Sally, was stricken at the same time as Paula. The year Paula got wooden legs Sally died of the same disease.

Martin, 43, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last summer. He died Sunday in a hospital in nearby Glen Dale.

Surviving are his widow, Evelyn; a son, Charles, 12; Patty, a twin sister of Paula; Suzie, 6, and Paula.

Seek Oil Lines To Bypass Suez Canal

The crisis created by blockage of the Suez Canal has the top brains of the big international oil companies buzzing with plans for ways to skip the Suez in case of a mid-East war or future canal closure. Most take the form of new pipelines, that by-pass Suez and Arab countries unfriendly or under Communist influence. Several are indicated on Newsmap above. One would run from northern Iraq into Turkey, then west, skirting Red-tinged Syria to a Mediterranean outlet at Iskenderon. A second plan calls for the northern Iraq-Iskenderon line to extend down to the Basra field. In an emergency, this could eliminate the long-haul tanker trip (dotted line) through the Persian Gulf and around the Arabian Peninsula to Suez. A third proposal calls for two lines from Basra to Iskenderon which could carry 1,200,000 barrels a day. A line may be run west through Turkey from a new oil strike near Tehran in Iran. A line may even be extended to tiny, oil-rich Kuwait on the Persian Gulf. Israel seeks backing for a line from Elath, on the Gulf of Aqaba, to its refinery port of Haifa. As it is felt no Arab country would permit its oil to go to Israel, that country would have to depend on oil shipped from non-Arab Iran, tankered over sea routes that Egypt or Saudi Arabia could block in time of war.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Now nobody's going to be able to accuse the Senate racket busting committee of brain-washing its witnesses. Not after this fellow Frank Malloy of Portland and teamsters' official, stood off all drives to invade his culture. Steadfastly he replied to persistent grilling: "I decline to answer on grounds that it might intimidate me."

That was a majestic intellectual experience — watching Malloy fracture the language as though it were some joker who thought he could ask a question at one of Malloy's union meetings. Malloy may not have had control of his consonants but he knew his constitutional rights — having denied them to so many in his 25 years with the Teamsters.

He even knew that he did not have to incriminate himself — and so took his own malapropian version of the Fifth Amendment when asked to say whether he was involved in such exciting adventures as "acid throwing, arson and dynamiting incidents."

As Malloy grunted through his answers the other day in the Senate hearing room, there was the feeling that he was battling vainly for a lost culture.

FOR, AT MANY points far from Malloy's intellectual joustings with the Senators and little David, otherwise known as chief counsel Bob Kennedy, legions were stirring themselves against the hosts of acid throwers, arsonists and dynamiters.

Not to speak in generalities, but at random — there was the moment at the Pennsylvania State CIO convention when AFL-CIO Executive Committee member Jim Carey shouted from the platform: "If there is one national union that's corrupt, that's one national union too many. If there's one local union in the hands of the hoods, that's one local union too many."

And the labor crowd roared its approval of these sentiments — the district attorney of Portland, Ore.

The prosecutors departed for their home grounds, some perhaps even to do battle. There was much to fight for — and to incriminate the guilty and relieve the intimidated.

Schoolteachers Ask For Break On Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is being asked to give the million schoolteachers in this country a better break on their income tax.

Some congressmen — like Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee — are responding sympathetically.

Teachers want to deduct expenses of going to summer school to improve their professional ability. Jenkins has introduced a bill to permit it.

An indignant Chicago teacher, Mrs. Adah Mauer, wrote Rep. O'Hara (D-Ill):

"Teachers are bitter over businessmen being able to entertain customers in the Stork Club and deduct the fun."

At the same time, she said, "we sit in stuffy lecture halls absorbing Plato, psychology and human dynamics, also for the purpose of increasing our income, and can't deduct the tuition."

"Not only is it not fair, it is an indictment of our American value system."

Columbiana Bank Finishes New Building

Open House To Be Friday

Aluminum Facade Modernizes Edifice

COLUMBIANA — The Citizens Savings Bank of Columbiana, having just completed a remodeling program, announces open house from 6 to 9:30 p.m. Friday. At that time the new and spacious quarters which have long been needed, will be open to the public for inspection.

Originally opened May 12, 1923, the bank, after having survived the depression could show total assets of only $390,000 in January, 1939. Since then it has shown a steady growth to assets of about $4,300,000, and the old quarters became inadequate for its increased activities.

In the remodeling, the entire outside of the building was completely changed in appearance by a new facade of enameled aluminum in maroon and gray, with high paneled and tinted windows.

The design is the work of R. Lloyd Buckles, architect, and the contractor, Bank Designers of America, Inc., of Newport Beach, Calif., and Clinton, Ky., long-established remodelers and designers specializing in banks.

They will be given to various zoos and institutions throughout the United States. Only 1,000 of the birds remain, now declared outmoded by electronic communications.

POLICEMAN WOUNDS BURGLAR

CINCINNATI — Police said a bullet fired by a patrolman grazed both legs of a 16-year-old boy who, they said, admitted stealing candy from a baking firm. Officers said patrolman Otis Owens fired at two youths he saw fleeing from the firm, where a break-in had been reported a few minutes earlier.

A 15-year-old youth, arrested with the injured boy, told police he acted as lookout while the other youth entered the building. The stolen candy was valued at $2.40. Officers said the wounded boy was treated at General Hospital, then released to police.

State Department Builds One House For 29 Offices

By KENNETH GILMORE

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When diplomats decide to trade in their black limousines for whirly-birds, this capital will be prepared.

The helicopters will simply settle on top of an eight-story superstructure practically a stone's throw from the Lincoln Memorial. A dream for the distant future?

No. Steam shovels are now digging a huge hole in the ground for the biggest and boldest combination of concrete, glass, steel and marble this construction conscious town has ever seen.

new $57,400,000 dream house. And there was never a better pay-off for that old "try and try again" theory.

In the last 176 years the State Department has moved 22 times trying to find a suitable dwelling. Today its offices and agencies are scattered in 29 buildings all over town.

In three years Uncle Sam's most sedate agency should be able to pull her 29 apron strings together and settle down happily under one roof — not an ordinary roof, however.

An area covering 49,000 square feet on top of the building will be specially constructed to provide for a heliport when and if one is needed.

This is just one of the features of the future incorporated in this great government building which will flank two gigantic city blocks.

Actually, it will be an extension attached to the main State building, but its size will be nearly four times that of the present straggly, hodgepodge.

"WE HAD TRIED to look to the future in every instance," says dynamic Thomas S. Estes, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Operations. He's the man who's riding herd on the new building for the State Department.

"When the time comes for a helicopter landing platform, for example, we don't want to have to rip the building apart," he explains. "And it isn't just a question of throwing in a couple of steel girders. Specially strengthened columns must be run through the building from top to bottom to allow for the extra weight."

In addition to the air age, the State Department is tailored to meet every demand of modern diplomacy and international relations.

A pneumatic tube system throughout the building will carry messages to all key points at the rate of 45 feet per second. An official paper can be put in a carrier at one of 70 stations and routed by a code system for automatic delivery at any other selected station.

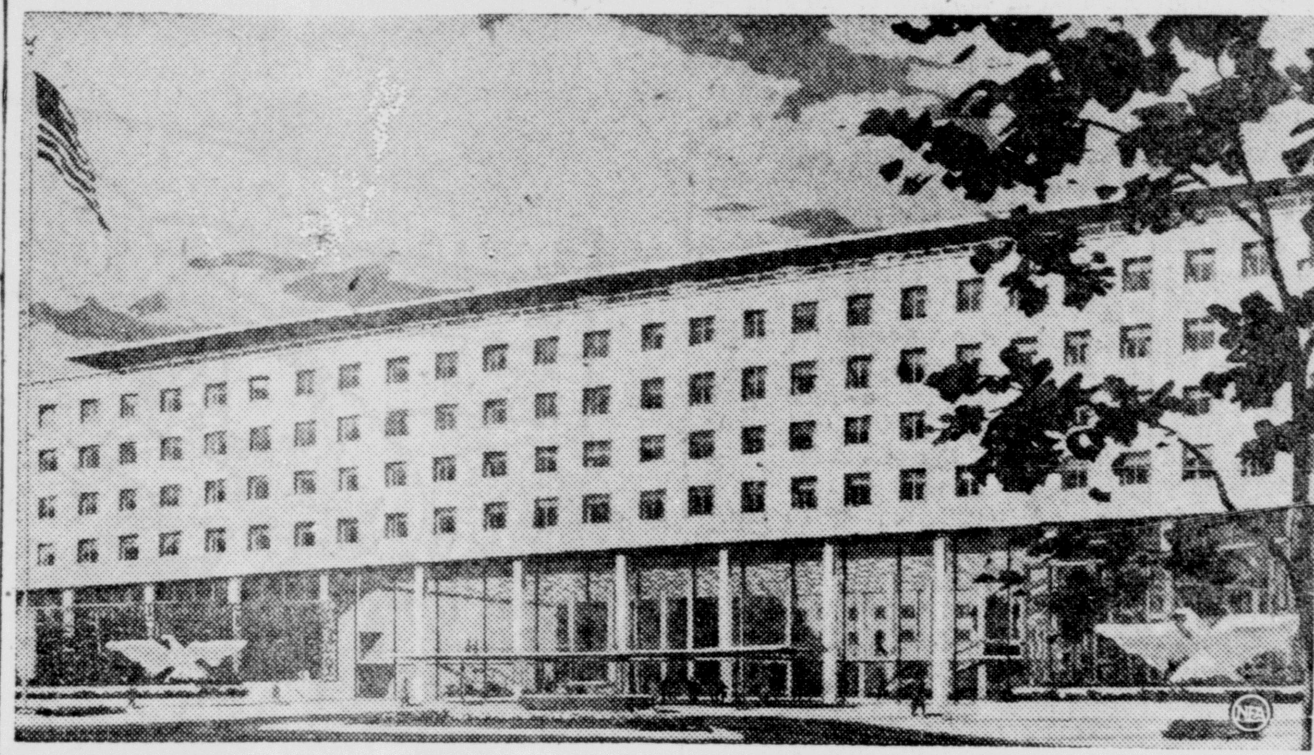

"Our objective is to get information and people from one place to another as quickly and easily as possible," says Estes.

DESPITE THE BUILDING'S size — second only to the Pentagon in this area and one of the largest in the world — any junior desk officer will be able to reach the office of an Assistant Secretary of State with no difficulty. "In some cases today a man has to walk from one corner of the main building to the other to reach his superior," says Estes. "Under the new set-up he should be able to make it in three or four minutes."

This will be accomplished by laying out the floor plans on a vertical rather than a horizontal basis. Thus similar divisions will be located one above the other instead of spread horizontally over a two block area.

"We'll have plenty of easy access stairways," says Estes. He feels that most officials never bother to wait for an elevator if they're in a hurry.

MOST DAZZLING feature of the building will be a huge hall on the top floor for large diplomatic dinners and receptions now held in cramped Blair House and the schedule-filled Pan American Union building.

"We put it up here so we could have a lot of open space without having to worry about any expensive weight problems," says Estes. "It will have a glass front and will afford a beautiful view of the Lincoln Memorial and the Potomac River."

"We want this hall to display the best in our cultural heritage — nothing ostentatious, but representative of the American people." Other important aspects of the building will be a large conference room equipped to handle international meetings. Next to it will be an auditorium seating 800 persons. Both of these will be equipped for simultaneous interpretation. Space will also be available for a library which will bring together the State Department's three million dollar collection of foreign and domestic publications. They're now spread all over town in a half dozen places.

Men Make Opinions

Now that the whirlwind over a proposed visit of Marshal Tito has blown itself out, leaving the wreckage of a good idea to mark the spot, there is time for calmer minds than those which blew it up to think about personal diplomacy.

Men make opinions, not countries. Individuals make the policies of governments, not parties. Although no one but an absolute despot has absolute authority, strong personalities guide governments as drivers guide automobiles.

This is the basis for personal diplomacy. It is the basis for President Eisenhower's confidence that in his second term he can reach a meeting of minds with many individuals responsible for policy in other nations.

The attitude in which King Saud returned to the Middle East demonstrates the possibilities of the kind of personal diplomacy President Eisenhower has in mind. Since his return, King Saud has cleared the minds of other strong personalities in the Arab bloc of many suspicions about the United States. They are willing to take the word of one of their own number for what he learned on his visit to Washington from the one man responsible for foreign policy.

Guy Mollet, premier of France, Prime Minister Macmillan of Great Britain, the prime minister of India, perhaps Marshal Zhukov of the Soviet Union, leaders of the West German Federal Republic — these are the kind of men who have it within their power to reach personal understandings with President Eisenhower and make recommendations when they return home.

The United States has nothing to hide, no need to practice duplicity. But only President Eisenhower, speaking from the strength of his election mandate, can give the heads of other governments the personal assurance they need.

This is for precisely the same reason that the top man in an organization is the one who ultimately must bear responsibility for major decisions. His subordinates can speak for his point of view but they cannot speak for him.

When the President's critics realize he has taken up personal diplomacy as the alternative to the routine diplomacy of ambassadors, ministers and the endless debates in the United Nations, there will be more whirlwinds like the one that wrecked the Tito visit.

Perhaps the good idea can be nailed down firmly enough in advance before the next whirlwind strikes to keep it from being wrecked.

Second Step

If history makes it as clear by hindsight as current events have made it that the first step in pacifying Israel and Egypt was to get Israeli troops off Egyptian soil, the second step also will be clear.

This is to convince Egypt it must give up the provocations which caused the Israeli troops to invade Egypt's territory.

Egypt had been maintaining a state of war with Israel long before the hard-pressed Israelis took it upon themselves to maintain a state of war with Egypt.

If the only way to undo the damage is to work backward, the job will not have been done until Egypt also has returned to the terms of the armistice agreement of 1949.

The United States has taken upon itself the difficult task of helping the United Nations to develop respect for international agreements. It must be as firm with Egypt as it has been with Israel.

What is being tested in the Middle East is respect for agreements — the basis of international law.

The attack on Egypt by Britain, France and Israel was a severe setback; it was a violation of international law by the nations least expected to turn lawless. They discredited the idea which the United States was trying to win acceptance for among peoples unaccustomed to the restraint of law.

When Britain and France withdrew, it was a victory for law. It is a victory for law when Israel yields. But there can be no triumph until Egypt, which had been waging war against Israel in violation of its agreement, also falls into line.

Happy 1960

Gov. O'Neill's budget message contains one statement that is not likely to be heard again in Ohio for a long time to come: "I do not recommend any new or increased taxes."

Two years from now, the next budget message will have to acknowledge that Ohio cannot step up its support for elementary, high school and even university education, roads, pensions, higher salary scales and public welfare in general without stepping up its revenue correspondingly.

The state cannot get by indefinitely with excise taxes on cigarettes and gasoline piled on top of a sales tax base, unless it tapers off its fast-rising spending rate — and there is no sign of any inclination to do that.

The last legislature hit the billion mark. This legislature is going to hit the billion and three-quarter mark.

The next one will have to reload the gun.

Trial Rights Abridged

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Justice Department Seen Short-Circuiting Law

Maybe there is no need for "civil rights" legislation after all. Congress will certainly be interested to discover how the Department of Justice just a few days ago in a move that has gone unnoticed generally, simply substituted the words "The United States" for the names of a local school board as a party to a lawsuit in federal court. By that device the 18 defendants arrested for allegedly hindering the federal injunction at Clinton Tenn., can be deprived of a trial by jury and put in jail as unfairly as if they were living in some totalitarian country.

While the laws of the land under the Constitution of the United States do permit federal judges to punish for contempt certain offenses committed in a courtroom or even outside, when the principals to a controversy refuse to obey a court order, a jury trial can usually be obtained on request.

But it is something novel when a lawsuit has been started by private parties to find the Department of Justice petitioning the Federal Court to amend the original petition and substitute the words "United States" for those of the complainant. This automatically bars a jury trial.

IF THE FEDERAL JUDGE in Knoxville, Tenn., approves this request and it is sustained on appeal by the courts it will not be necessary for the Congress to legislate on "civil rights." All that will be needed is for the Department of Justice to write out the orders and the courts will uphold them.

This is a flagrant abuse of power — much worse than any cited in the recent hearings before the House Judiciary Committee by the critics of the proposed "civil rights" legislation.

It is ironical that the American Civil Liberties Union — which on Feb. 26th made a commendable statement criticizing the federal court injunction issued at Clinton, Tenn., as being too broad — didn't know that on Feb. 25th the same federal judge was being asked by the Department of Justice to deprive citizens of a chance for jury trial.

The Civil Liberties Union statement had rightly criticized the injunction as too broad and had said that "to the extent that it enjoins speech in opposition to or advocating ignoring of the order or peaceful picketing for these purposes it is invalid."

IN THAT SAME statement, moreover, the right to jury trial was vigorously upheld by the ACLU even for those defendants who had been charged with actually "hindering" or "obstructing" the operations of a court order. The ACLU said:

"Under the federal law a person in contempt of Federal Court order enjoining acts which are also in violation of the federal or state law is entitled, if he requests it, to a trial by jury. This protection of individual rights was originally written into the law to guard against possible biased judicial decisions in labor injunction cases and now covers all contempt issues . . .

"Similarly, as the acts charged against the 16 persons now facing trial allege violations of federal and state laws, these defendants can ask for a jury trial. Therefore no civil liberties issue is raised unless the jury trial is denied, which is unlikely in view of the clear instruction of the law."

But what the ACLU didn't know when it issued that statement and what most people throughout the United States didn't know because it wasn't reported in the press generally, was that the Department of Justice had resorted to a stratagem by seeking to make the "United States" a party to the suit, which — according to a law of Congress governing contempt cases — eliminates trial by jury.

Some critics not long ago pointed to the case of John L. Lewis as a precedent because he was fined once for contempt by a judge and was not given a jury trial.

Those same critics failed to notice that the United States itself was a party to the suit. This was because the government, acting in accordance with a wartime statute, had seized the coal mines and hence any action taken by a union or its leaders to defy a court order was a defiance of the United States government itself.

THERE IS NO SUCH parallel here. The school board officials at Clinton, Tenn., were wholeheartedly complying with the desegregation order of the Federal Court when they found certain persons in the town were "organizing a movement" to discourage attendance at an integrated school.

Hence these school officials asked the court to enjoin anyone attempting to "interfere" with the school board's operations. But a local school board is not a part of the government of the United States and it is difficult to imagine any Federal Court judge consenting to the substitution of the "United States" for a local school board.

Even, however, if this strange petition does not win the approval of the court, the amazing thing is that anyone in the Department of Justice would try such a trick of circumvention in the very week when prominent lawyers from various states were warning Congress that to pass the "civil rights" legislation now being proposed would lead to grave abuses of power.

And Away We Go

By TRUMAN TWILL

The thing about the new auto designs that had been bothering me finally became clear.

I was tooling along to work in my battered vintage jalopy when the light dawned.

Suddenly, the jalopy and I were surrounded by multi-hued examples of the auto designers' newest masterpieces. They twinkled and flashed. They were like birds of brilliant plumage that had deigned to touch the ground for an instant but would take flight again.

They were emancipated from reality. The sky was the limit.

That was when the thing which had been bothering me became clear.

Automobiles have become like millinery. They have broken free from the last restraints of functionality.

From now on, the sky will be the limit. Nothing will be too frivolous, nothing too outlandish. All earthly restraints can be broken without fear of the consequences.

The boys crouched over drafting tables in Detroit have attained the freedom long enjoyed by the girls and the girlish boys who make hats for women.

It is their goal never to make a hat that looks the way a hat would look if it were designed according to the function a hat performs, which is to protect the human head from the elements.

It will be the goal of the Detroit "milliners" from now on never to make an automobile that will look as if it were a vehicle to transport passengers and their belongings from one place to another.

The era of the horse-drawn buggy, whose design influenced the appearance of automobiles from the beginning to the present, finally has ended.

The evolution that caused the dashboard to become the cowl and dictated that the horsepower between the shafts should become the horsepower under the hood has run its unimaginative course.

The "mud-guards" that kept the passengers clean have disappeared. The buggy has sprouted wings and grown tall feathers.

Its passengers no longer sit on top of it, with a cover over their heads but are hidden away inside it like a cargo of Jonahs in a streamlined whale.

And all this is only the beginning, now that auto designers have joined the milliners as fancy-free artists whose ability to spurn practicality is their trade secret.

What began with the addition of a few non-functional fins will soar to the moon before it has run its course. Automobiles will resemble animals, fowl, insects, jewel cases, time capsules, space ships, Cinderella coaches, Roman chariots — anything to keep them from looking like power-driven vehicles.

They will be as fanciful as floats in a never-ending parade — fabricated illusions hiding wheels and a power plant.

Will be?

They are. They make my battered vintage jalopy, which was a triumph of advanced design in its day, look an ox-cart.

The Wheel That Squeaks the Loudest

Blind Liberalism

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In an interesting novel, entitled "The Great Idea," published six years ago, Henry Hazlitt projected an imaginary crisis in the Soviet Russia of the future.

The theme of the book was that under pressure of necessity the rulers of that nation returned step by step to a capitalist economy.

Like the fanatics of the French Revolution who "abolished" God and found it necessary to create a substitute, the Communists found it necessary to reconstruct piece by piece the mechanism of a free market.

In the account of an interview with Nikita S. Khrushchev by Joseph Alsop recently published in various newspapers there is suggested at least a partial fulfillment of Hazlitt's prophecy.

According to Khrushchev, the recent plenum of the Central Committee of the Communist party authorized the abandonment of the immensely powerful but unsuccessful "industrial ministries" in Moscow and in the "republics." The control of industry will henceforth be decentralized, and "planning" will be vested in territorial departments.

THERE WILL still be a "Fosplan," which is the State Planning Commission. But it will only be concerned with examining and reviewing the activities of the territorial departments. This change is described by Khrushchev as "absolutely fundamental."

It is indeed, because it marks the abandonment of the central idea upon which the Soviet structure has stood since Lenin.

When Lenin came to the top of affairs, he had no plans. He said: "I do not know of any Socialist masses a shining, unimpeded who has dealt with these problems . . . We need a plan at once to give the masses a shining, unimpeded example to work for."

The need was filled by an idea developed by a German, Walter Rathenau, who published his planning scheme in a pamphlet in 1914. It was called "Germany's Raw Material Management."

From it the British Labor Party got its working plans. It was, in effect, an implementation of Marxism, although it was designed to supply a war need.

In the United States it is said to have provided the basic idea for Barnard Baruch's War Industries Board in the First World War. From the experience gained under Baruch, Gen. Hugh Johnson created the NRA.

IT IS INTERESTING to note how the idea was seized by American radicals as a way to reconstruct our economy in the 1920's and early 1930's. A wealth of material on that subject has just been published in a book by Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., who is not only a professor but an active member of the A.D.A. and who was an advisor of Adlai Stevenson in his two campaigns.

The central figure in Mr. Schlesinger's account of the early New Deal is Rexford G. Tugwell. For a long time before the depression Mr. Tugwell brooded over what he conceived to be the failure of the capitalist economy. He felt that what was needed in industry as well as in agriculture was "unity" and "co-ordination" on a national scale.

Mr. Schlesinger says that "This had been achieved once — by the Aar Industries Board, 'America's wartime socialism.'

The war, said Mr. Tugwell enviously, was 'an industrial engineer's Utopia . . . Only the Armistice prevented a great experiment in control of production, control of price, and control of consumption."

Since I was very close to the situation in those days, I can vouch for this interpretation of Mr. Tugwell's thinking.

In fact, his planning was worked out in great detail, and I may say that I always respected his utter sincerity while I disagreed with his ideas.

IT IS MOST interesting that, just as the Kremlin is discovering a road away from nearly 40 years of experimentation, our "liberals" are still chasing the concept of a centralized government with economic controls of various sorts.

It is not only interesting but almost frightening to see at the same time, that the Eisenhower administration is, under the name of the "New Republicanism," veering in the same direction.

Is it possible that we must pursue the concept of central controls to its bitter end, and abandon the tried system of local responsibility?

The idea failed in Socialist government in Britain in 1945-51. It is failing in Russia. It has failed in East Germany.

Is there nothing that "liberals" can learn from the past?

Sweet And The Sour

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—On April 1 the soft coal mines will start paying miners 80 cents more a day. At the same time the mines in the South will raise the price of coal 25 cents a ton and those in the North may take like action.

The cost of living—as measured by the government's consumer price index—has just risen to another new record high. Automatically about 1½ million workers get a raise in hourly wage scales.

The sweet and the sour are closely blended in these two news items. A fatter pay envelope is a thing of joy. Higher monthly bills aren't.

There's nothing unique about these two news items, either. The labor department reports that existing labor contracts call for five million workers to get pay increases this year. Other contracts are up for negotiation this year.

President Eisenhower has urged that both management and labor use voluntary restraint in the matter of seeking higher wages and raising prices. His plea set off again a debate as to what causes the rise in the cost of living. Is it the steady climb in wage scales? Or is it a drive to fatten corporate profits?

The First National City Bank of New York, in its March letter, points out that this debate always crops up during periods of upward price pressures.

Management's argument: Rising prices are due to rising costs. It charges that wages have risen faster than productivity, which is the amount of goods turned out per man hour of work. Management insists that its profit margins, therefore, are shrinking. It points to the 1956 earnings statements, many of which stress that sales volume rose but profits didn't—or, if they did, rose at a much slower rate.

Labor's argument: Profits have risen as fast or faster than wages. So wage increases could have been made out of profits without raising prices. It contends that higher wages should give labor a greater share in the returns of a business operation rather than be an excuse for hiking the price to the consumer.

The U. S. Department of Commerce, in its national income series, reports that in the manufacturing industries total compensation of employees including fringe benefits rose from 44½ billion dollars in 1947 to more than 83 billion in 1956. Corporate income taxes in these industries rose from 6½ billion dollars in 1947 to more than 12 billion in 1956. Profits after taxes in the manufacturing industries rose from 10 billion dollars in 1947 to around 12 billion in 1956. Wage and tax totals almost doubled. Profits didn't.

The bank says this shows "that industry, instead of 'fattening its profits margins', has been fighting a constant battle against rising costs."

Labor leaders have other hardsticks to measure what has been happening and doubtless won't buy the bank's argument.

So They Say

And if I were in the Senate today I would urge speedy approval of the President's (Middle East) requests in order to clear the way for the equally urgent measure that the administration ought to take to prevent war in the Middle East — Former President Truman in his published Mideast peace program.

I'd be strongly opposed (to a request by President Eisenhower for price controls on oil and gasoline). I don't see how we can have them in peace time. —Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton.

Thought For Today

Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: so where there is no talebearer the strife ceaseth. —Prov. 26:20.

Slander is a most serious evil; it implies two who do wrong, and one who is doubly wronged. —Herod.

Church And Reckless Driver

It looks as if the church may pitch in with a vigorous assist in the fight against reckless driving. It is an agency that could do more than all the safety-first associations are doing, since it is obvious that millions of homicidal people are guilty of violating cardinal rules of religion.

Many a man who brushes off appeals of police, automobile associations and Safe-Driving-Week campaigns can be made to do deeper thinking if he gets a dressing-down from the pulpit.

Anybody who at the wheel of an auto behaves ruthlessly or carelessly, ignores divine law just as if he contributed to maiming and killing in any other way, an American bishop declared recently. And he added this:

"The moral guilt is contracted not only by those who, through carelessness, become involved in accidents, BUT ALSO BY THOSE WHO ESCAPE ACCIDENTS BY SHEER LUCK AFTER BRAZENLY VIOLATING THE LAWS."

OTHER CHURCHMEN, although not enough and not so frequently as the situation demands, are also pointing out that such commandments as "Thou shalt not kill," "Love thy neighbor as thyself" and "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you" are leered at by the roadhog, the speedster and the imperious fellow who seldom gives the other driver an even break.

HOW ABOUT A SPECIAL list of commandments for the American autoist?

- 1 — Thou shalt not so conduct thyself as to make killing a possibility.
- 2 — Thou shalt not be guilty of impatience, irascibility, flagrant selfishness or outright contempt for a fellow man.
- 3 — Thou shalt not think in split-seconds and behave as if the loss of half a minute between two given points were more than thou can stand.
- 4 — Thou shalt not covet a right of way.
- 5 — Thou shalt not behave at the wheel of any auto as if sold on the belief thou art entitled to a motorcycle escort.
- 6 — Drive more by the Bible and less by the road map, the mirror and the speedometer.
- 7 — Make not a mockery of thy prayers for mercy by an attitude of mercilessness toward thy fellow driver.
- 8 — Proceed not under the belief that, once behind the wheel of an automobile, the teachings of thy church and the concepts learned at thy mother's knee are cancelled out.
- 9 — Be not arrogant in thy possession of a luxury, a convenience and a travel facility.
- 10 — Honor thy creed, thy better impulses and thy conscience even if it permits the other fellow to get ahead of thee by a single car length

U.S. To Unfreeze Middle East Aid

Seek To Restore Tranquility There

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials are making plans to unfreeze U.S. aid to the embattled Middle East area this month in a further effort to restore tranquility there.

All aid programs in the immediate area were necessarily suspended last fall when the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt forced the recall of 199 foreign aid officials together with their families, to avoid injury. That left nobody in the area to administer the aid programs under way in Israel, Egypt and Lebanon.

Officials said today orders to return to their posts will go out to these 199 experts sometime this month—presumably as soon as Israeli troops complete withdrawal from Gaza and Sharm el Sheikh.

Westinghouse to lay Off 4,000 For One Week

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. has announced it will lay off 4,000 workers here for one week starting March 18 "unless business picks up." The layoff would virtually shut down the plant where heavy home appliances are made.

The announcement came after members of Local 711, International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) voted whether to take the one-week layoff or to take off every other Friday for an eight-week period.

and the last sunken ship is cleared from the channel of the Suez Canal.

Congress has appropriated 750 million dollars for military and economic aid in the Middle East during the fiscal year ending next June 30. President Eisenhower has an additional 100 million dollars to use as he sees fit.

Awaiting congressional approval is Eisenhower's request for a freer hand in spending 200 millions of available funds in the area.

Israel has pending a request for U.S. arms, as well as an application for a 75-million-dollar Export-Import Bank loan for irrigation. Syria, which U.S. officials consider pro-Moscow gets no U.S. aid of any kind and has been offered none.

No problem is seen in resumption of aid programs in Lebanon, with which the United States has had close ties.

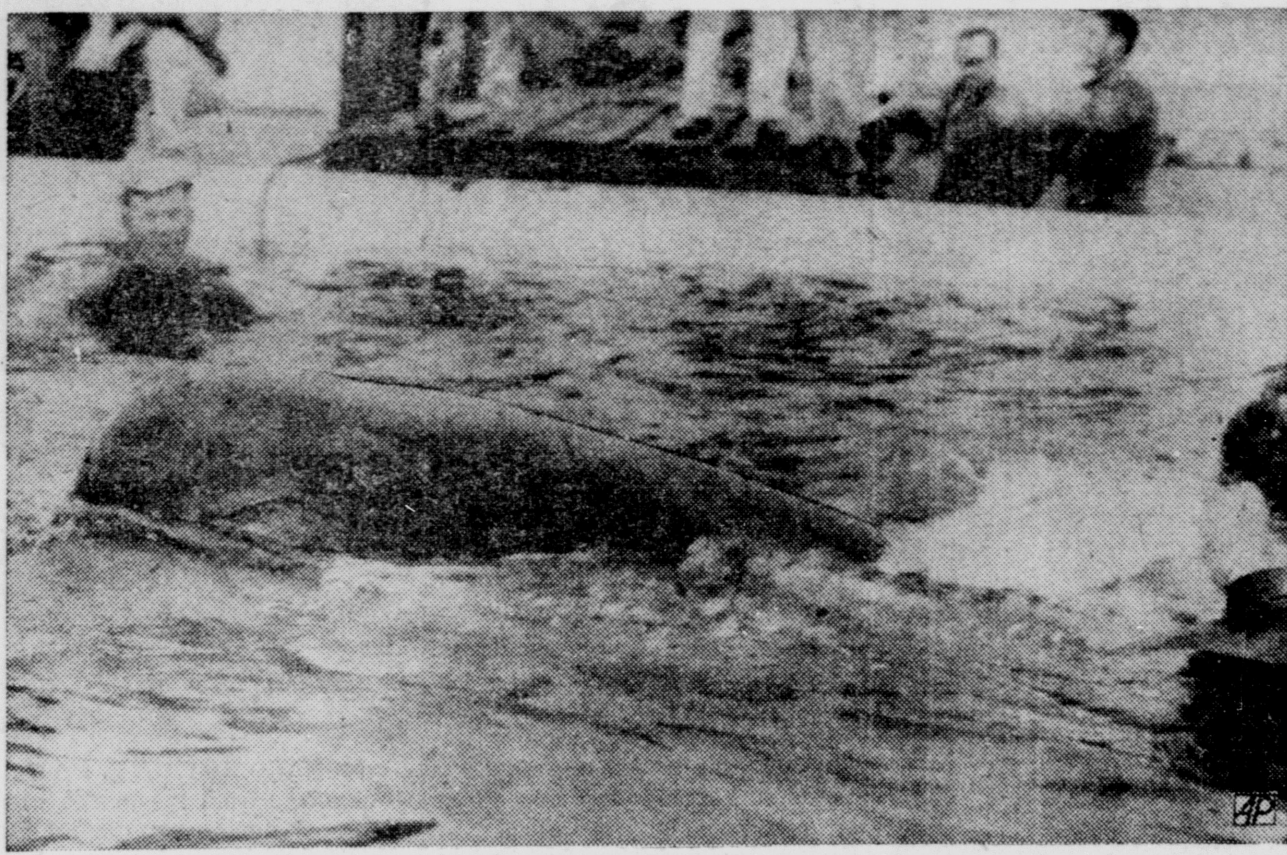

Egypt had been getting farm surplus products and some technical aid, but with reference to new funds Secretary of State Dulles told a Senate committee, "We have no present plans for giving economic help to Egypt."

'Fishyback' Shipping Expected To Flourish

CLEVELAND (AP)—Roy Fruehauf says "fishyback" shipping—the transportation of loaded truck trailers by ship—will flourish in the Great Lakes when the St. Lawrence Seaway is opened in 1959.

In fact, the president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. predicted, fishyback shipping promises to be "one of the dominant features" of Great Lakes-Seaway traffic.

In remarks to a traffic club luncheon Monday Fruehauf said plans have been announced for construction of more than 21 ships for fishyback service along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

LIVE WHALE CAPTURED — A black pilot whale, believed to be the only one presently in captivity, churns the water of a tank at Marineland of the Pacific at Palos Verdes Estates, Calif. The whale, weighing about 1,500 pounds, eventually will be put into a porpoise tank for exhibition purposes.

Judge Must Decide How Much Alcohol Is In Can Of Beer

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—How much alcohol does a can of beer contain?

That is a question that Municipal Judge J. L. Tweed of Cuyahoga Falls must decide.

The question was raised Monday in the trial of Mrs. Alma E. Sawan, a waitress in a Cuyahoga Falls restaurant, who is charged with selling "high powered" beer to a 19-year-old youth.

David Sanders, assistant city solicitor, citing a state law which prohibits sale of intoxicants to persons under 21, said the label on the can of beer sold the youth said its alcoholic content was at least 3.2 per cent and not more than 7 per cent.

He argued that 3.2 per cent would make the beer an intoxicating beverage under the law.

Defense attorney Edward Krutzel contended that the printed label was not admissible evidence. He argued that the alcoholic content could not be determined without analyzing the beer.

Judge Tweed said he would rule Friday.

GE STRIKE ENDS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Workers start returning to the General Electric Co.'s Cleveland wire plant in Euclid today following settlement of a five-day strike.

Renko is scheduled to appear in Bedford Municipal Court tomorrow night on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Suggests '4-Fs' Be Put Into CD Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for mayors across the country suggested today that the "4-Fs" rejected from military service be pressed into Civil Defense work.

Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. broached this idea in testimony prepared for a House Government Operations Subcommittee in its hearings on civil defense.

Speaking as chairman of the U.S. Conference of Mayors' standing committee on legislation, D'Alesandro said:

"I firmly believe that some thought should be given to requiring Civil Defense service from some of the people rejected by the Selective Service board because of physical defects.

"They could well discharge their civic responsibility in that manner and not be completely excused therefrom as under the present system. Some recompense should be provided, from federal funds while so serving."

Says Heart Disease May Be OK At Age 100

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White says increased heart disease might be good "if it could come at such an advanced age of, say 100 or 110 after a full healthy happy and active life free from disease."

The Boston heart specialist said Monday night that "a sudden cardiac death would then mean the abolition of all infections, cancer, accidents and wars."

But he told an audience at the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine's centennial meeting that many people under age 65 still die or are disabled by heart ailments.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Al Parker

THE MORAL OF A MISSING ENGINE

They say you should visit your dentist twice a year even if you haven't a toothache, and that you should visit your doctor once a year even if you haven't a stomach ache. And you should see your mechanic (one of our factory-trained boys) with every change of the season even if you haven't a cylinder ache.

A regular checkup by a good mechanic can unearth the little trouble spots that turn into the big bills of the future.

When you do come in, we'll try to save you the anguish of the woman who drove in one day and said she couldn't understand why her car was acting up.

One of the boys poked around for a minute and then came over to her: "Nothing much," he said, "you're engine's missing."

I thought she was going to scream. "My husband will be furious," she wailed. "Was it stolen or did I lose it some place?"

We kept our faces painfully straight while the mechanic made a simple adjustment and I gave her the explanation. She got out for a dollar fifty and now she tells the story as a good joke on herself.

The story has its moral too: Many drivers let themselves get frightened away from regular mechanical care by imagining all sorts of horrible things (like big bills) are going to descend on them. "After all," they reason, "if the car is running why spend money on it?"

"Sure," I tell them, "why buy fire insurance either, your house hasn't burned down yet." And that's just what regular car care is—the best insurance there is to guarantee fewer bills now and higher trade-in value later.

Points and plugs, carburetor and cooling system, timing and compression—these are the items the driver who is faithful to his car gets checked up at this time of year.

Here is a like-new beauty that is in tip-top running condition from plugs and points to the transmission. A stunning 1955 Oldsmobile Super "88" Holiday Hardtop coupe. Has the works—hydraulic, power steering, power brakes, radio, leather interior, whitewalls and many other extras. Finished in a cool 2-tone Ivory over Mint Green. Only $2295.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

The council also elected Carl Blake, Franklin township, vice president, and R. R. Barber, Butler Township, re-elected secretary. Atty. Howard M. Cole was re-appointed to serve on the county health board for a five-year term. His term expired in 1957.

Dr. C. S. Palmer gave the yearly report and told the advisory council that all children in the health district will have at least two polio shots before June 1. He advised that third shots are indefinite as it will depend on whether there will be any more free vaccine after June 1.

A lengthy discussion on township dumps and establishing a planning committee and building codes for Columbiana County was held.

Nineteen townships and villages LISBON — The District Advisory Council of the Columbiana County Health Board Monday night elected Mayor Karl J. Lindner of Salineville president to succeed Charles Gause of Hanoverton, who has held the position since 1951. He was represented at last night's of the net value of actual output during the year.

The department's estimate of 1956 income runs higher than the other because it included 250 million dollars worth of crops and livestock which the farmers sold last year from previous years' accumulations.

The report carried both sets of computations but used the first set as its official estimate of net income. The second set was included, as customary, to permit statistical comparisons.

The record high net income — on the department's basis — was $17,191,000,000 in 1947. On the other basis the record was $17,695,000,000 in 1948.

To Re-seed Football Field

Supt. Kerr announced that the athletic board has decided to close Reilly Field and Reilly practice field at the end of the school term for work on improving the turf. The turf on the playing field will be improved, and the practice field graded and seeded, he continued.

This fall, the superintendent declared, the gridiron will have an excellent turf and the practice field will be available to the team for use instead of being too hard and rocky for any practice sessions.

Kerr recommended the board help the athletic association "keep its head above the water" by paying the electricity bills for Reilly Stadium and a few other bills which the board can legally pay.

The board is not permitted to buy uniforms or own sports equipment, but can pay for the electricity used during the games, Kerr said. The board agreed to his request.

In other action last night the board:

Employed E. S. Johnson as assistant janitor at Fourth St. School; Granted permission for Miss Martha McCready and Miss Carol Kelley to attend the March 28-30 National Convention of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics at Philadelphia;

Established a petty cash fund of $50 to take care of incidental expenses at the board of education and business manager's offices in the high school.

Rejected a Junior Chamber of Commerce request to hold a donkey basketball game in the high school gym. Board members said they could not permit donkeys on the new floor, laid last fall at a cost of about $12,000.

Quakers Work Out At Canton To Prepare For McKinley

To Get 'Feel' Of Big Court

Bulldogs Will Be Tall Tourney Foe

The Salem Quakers have deserted their small gym floor this week to practice in more spacious quarters as the Quakers prepare to battle the tall Canton McKinley Bulldogs Friday night in the Class AA District Championships at Canton Field House.

Last night Salem worked out in the huge field house and tonight they journey to Columbiana for practice. Wednesday and Thursday nights the Quakers again will drill at the Canton Field House as they seek to become accustomed to plenty of elbow room.

The game Friday night will be at 7-15.

If the Quakers intend to advance to the Regionals at Kent they must take on the talented Bulldog quintet, and if they accomplish this, they will then play the winner of the Jackson-Canton Lincoln game on Saturday night for the district title.

In gaining this berth in the district playoffs, Salem won their end of the sectional tournament at Youngstown by defeating Chaney 62-49, and in a powerful team display.

180 More Tickets Put On Sale For Tournament

Reserved tickets for the tournament game against McKinley Friday night can be purchased at Heddleston's Drug Store, and Fisher's News Agency for $1.25.

There are 180 tickets available at these two outlets. Student tickets can be purchased in the high school from Fred Cope, school athletic director for $50. Five hundred tickets are available.

A bus for students and parents will leave in front of the high school at 5:45 p.m. Friday for the game. Admission will be $1 for the round trip.

Pressure for game tickets is reported heavy at outlets here and in Canton. One hundred and twenty-six reserved seats were placed on sale in Salem Monday and were sold out by evening.

The 180 tickets put on sale today are all the reserved seats that will be available to Salem. About 600 general admission tickets will go on sale at game time.

play, they upended Austintown Fitch 77-61 for the right to meet the Bulldogs.

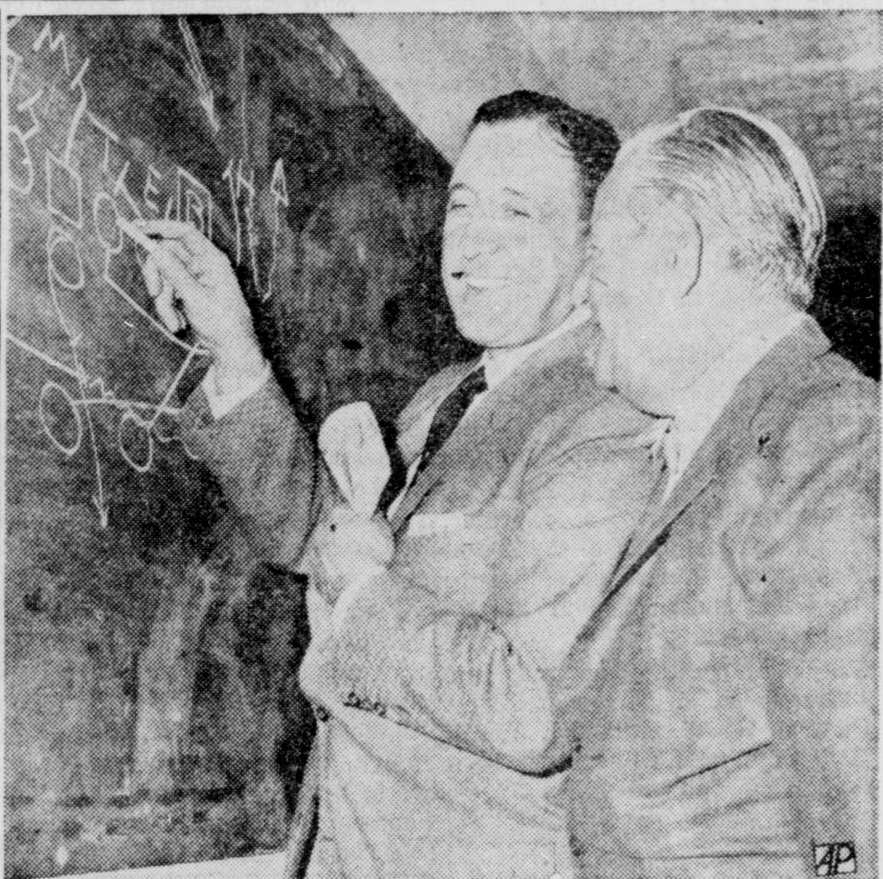

While this was occurring, McKinley was whipping both Waynesdale 83-52, and Norwayne 70-49 to advance to the District playoffs.

McKINLEY and the Red and Black faced two mutual opponents during regular season play. The Bulldogs breezed past Warren Harding 90-51, and Salem clipped them 67-50. The Bulldogs ripped East Liverpool 79-62, and the Cabans were defeated on the Potters' floor 70-69.

Salem will face in the Bulldogs a team with a height advantage. Coach "Bup" Rearick will start Bob Winn, 6 foot 4 inch sophomore, at center. Charley Jones, 6 foot 3 inch junior, and Bill Wires, 6 foot 2 inch senior start at the forward post.

Jim Mathews, 6 foot senior, and Wayne Fontes, 5 foot 11 inch senior get the nod at the guard slots. Another outstanding player to see plenty of action will be Rudy Martin, 6 foot 3 inch, junior forward, and if the coach needs to send in some added height, he has two tall brothers, one a junior, the other a senior, in his bench strength. Al and Nate Hubbard are both 6 foot 8 inches in height.

IN 20 BALL GAMES played the Bulldogs have tallied 1,287 points for a 64.3 average per game, and their opponents have made 1,022

Jim Mathews leads the scoring parade for the Canton club as he has tallied 429 markers in the 20 contests played for a 21.4 average. Teammate Charley Jones has made 320 points for a 16 point average.

The Bulldog victory list includes: Cleveland Lincoln 67-41; Akron North 46-40; Saratoga Springs, New York 82-49; Canton South 73-62; Massillon 69-40; Warren 90-51; Canton Lincoln 65-55; Cleveland Heights 51-48; Alliance 49-35; Canton Lehman 48-40; Kent Roosevelt (double overtime) 52-49; Akron South 65-57; Alliance 60-55; East Liverpool 79-62; and Canton Timken 92-63.

Losses were to Cuyahoga Falls 70-47; Farrell Pa., 56-54, and Massillon, 48-46.

Salem, winners of 16 out of 20 games, have tallied 1,290 markers for a 64.5 average per game, and they have allowed the opponents 1,090 points for a 54.5 per game average.

Coach Cabas will start 6 foot 4 inch junior, Bill Pauline at center. Mark Fenton, 6 foot 2 inch senior, and Ted Jackson, 5 foot 11 inch senior will start at the forward post. Jim Meissner, 5 foot 9 inch junior, and John Stephenson, 5 foot 11 inch senior, get the nod at the guard slots.

Mark Fenton is top point getter for the Red and Black as he has tallied 280 markers for a 14 point average per contest. He is followed closely by John Stephenson who has chalked up 277 points for a 13.8 average.

Los Angeles Mayor Out To Get Baseball Team

LOS ANGELES — Mayor Norris Poulson and an official delegation are off to see O'Malley, the poobah of Brooklynville, in hopes of bringing his Dodgers to Angeltown, some day.

The word from the Dodgers training camp is that Dodge President Walter O'Malley is sending Brooklyn's private plane to pick up the Los Angeles group in Miami Wednesday morning and fly them to Vero Beach.

O'Malley has carefully avoided any commitment, or even speculation, as to whether the Dodgers will move to Los Angeles, now that Brooklyn owns the Los Angeles franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

Mayor Poulson said "we mean business and we want to find out if Mr. O'Malley means business."

Gil Turner Stops Gwin In Fourth

NEW YORK — Gil Turner, who came close to being washed up at the age of 26, decided today that from now on he's strictly a welterweight — the middleweights are too big and strong for him.

A veteran of 67 fights, many of them in the middleweight division, Turner stopped inexperienced Rudy Gwin of Cleveland Monday night in 2:19 of the fourth round of a scheduled 10 at St. Nicholas Arena.

"From now on I'm strictly a welterweight," said Turner, a Philadelphia who trimmed himself down to 150½ pounds for his meeting with Gwin. "I felt good, better than I have in a long time."

"I know I had my chance to win the welterweight title back in 1952 and Kid Gavilan beat me. But I wasn't ready then."

Gwin, 146½, who came up through the Golden Gloves and at one time was champion of the Navy, has had only a dozen professional fights. He was in far over his head against Turner.

District NAIA Team To Be Picked

Steubenville led all the way, holding a 39-33 advantage at half-time, in registering its 18th victory in 26 games this season. Jim Smith led the attack with 34 points. Jack Horner and George Morton were high scorers for Wilmington with 13 apiece. Wilmington is now 15-5 for the season.

Led by Mickey Yugovish, who scored 25 points, Youngstown took an early lead and was never in trouble in winning its 18th straight victory on the home floor over a span of two seasons. The triumph was the 20th in 23 games this season. Jim Ladd scored 18 points to lead Defiance, which has won 19 of its 23 starts.

Salem Freshmen Nip Hubbard 52-50 In Tourney

Quakers Come From Behind To Beat Tough Eagle Team

By BOB JULIAN

A fighting heart plus the burning desire to win proved to be the Salem High School freshmen's most valuable assets last night as they came from behind to conquer the tough Hubbard Eagles 52-50 in the first round of the Hubbard Junior High Tournament at Hubbard before about 300 fans.

Salem, after a dismal first half, came out after intermission and sank 52 per cent of their field goals to outscore the Eagles 34-25 and turn what might have been a loss into a stunning victory.

Coach Sam Pridons' charges chalked up their 16th win in 17 outings and now have won 12 in a row since losing to Greenford early in the season. The loss was Hubbard's fourth in 17 tries and thus the Eagles end a brilliant campaign.

Hubbard in the first half was paced by the stellar shooting of Joe Dubyak and Nick Novosel who between them accounted for 23 of the Eagles' 25 markers at half-time.

The Pridonsmen, somewhat on the jittery side in the initial 12 minutes, started off on the right foot as they raced to a 6-0 lead early in the first period but due to careless ball handling and poor shooting the Hubbard boys took control of the ball game and outclassed the Quakers throughout the first two periods to grab a 25-18 intermission margin.

SALEM'S JIM LEHWALD opened the tilt with a foul shot, the first of six in a row, for the Quakers with 5:29 left in the period.

The Quakers maintained their 6-0 lead till the five minute mark when Dubyak connected on a charity toss. From this point on the Eagles threw in points from all angles and meshed 10 straight tallies to move into a 10-6 lead with about three minutes remaining in the initial canto.

The Pridonsmen fought back and knotted up the count at 10-10 on two baskets by Paul Herman and Ed Yates and then Danny Krichbaum put the Red and Black into their last lead of the first half 12-10 with 2:25 to go in the initial frame. But the Quakers couldn't cope with the accuracy of Dubyak and Novosel from the field as they pushed Hubbard into a four point bulge 16-12 at the end of the first period.

DUBYAK SPARKED the Hubbards with nine markers in the frame.

In the second stanza the host five continued their all-around dominance as Novosel dumped in six of his eight tallies in the canto to advance the Hubbard lead to 22-12 with three minutes left in the quarter.

Salem was limited to only six markers in this low scoring second period but the Eagles caged nine markers to up their advantage to 25-18 after two frames of play.

Starting the third canto the Hubbard boys looked as if they might keep up their fine play as they moved out to a 27-18 margin with 5:50 to go in the period. Salem's Davy Hunter, Paul Herman and Ed Yates tallied two, one and two markers respectively to cut the Eagles lead to just four points 27-23.

Both clubs battled evenly throughout the remaining minutes of the canto but the tide started to turn. At one point in the frame the Pridonsmen came to within one marker of Hubbard 35-34 but couldn't seem to go in to the lead.

THE RED AND BLACK, beginning to hit their stride, outscored the Eagles 18-15 to trail at the end of three periods 40-36.

Hunter and Krichbaum paced the locals with five markers each in the quarter.

Hubbard displayed fine marksmanship from the foul stripe in this stanza as they caged their last five points at the foul line and totaled nine of their 15 tallies from the charity line to keep them in the ball game.

Playing fired-up ball in the final six minutes the Quakers knotted up the tilt for the fourth time on a driving lay-up by Davy Hunter at 40-all with 4:50 to go in the game.

Dubyak grabbed the lead once again for Hubbard on a basket and free throw 43-40 and with the crowd standing on its feet Salem's Paul Herman was fouled and had a chance to cut the margin to one point. Big Paul made good on one try and Danny Krichbaum grabbing the missed second shot drilled it in to give the Quakers a 44-43 advantage which they never lost again.

Herman and Yates iced the Salem victory with two under the basket tip-ins to advance the Red and Black into a 47-44 lead with 2:51 remaining.

NOVOSOL DROPPED in two foul shots to cut the deficit to 47-46 before fouling out with 2:44 left in the game.

The loss of Novosol hurt the Eagles considerably as they lost their big scoring threat and one of their ace rebounders.

Hunter kept the locals ahead as he pumped in two free throws to once again give the Pridonsmen a three point advantage 49-46 with two minutes to go.

The Hubbard boys closed in on the Quakers for the last time as Gvidosh hit on two foul tries to cut the lead to one marker, 49-48. Then, with the locals taking numerous shots without success, the Eagles gained control of the ball and started up the court with the clock showing 59 seconds left to be played.

Hubbard trying to set someone less and Davy Hunter came streaking past the Hubbard boy with the ball, stole it from him and raced the complete length of the floor to wrap up the game for the Quakers on a driving layup to give the Pridonsmen a 52-48 lead with 12 seconds to go.

Thiel intercepted a Salem pass and connected on a jump shot with nine seconds remaining to cut Salem's advantage to 52-50. The Quakers held the ball for the remaining seconds of the fourth period to tuck away Coach Sam Pridons' first tournament win as frosh mentor at Salem, 52-50.

LEADING THE Red and Black in scoring was Danny Krichbaum with 15 markers. Danny might have had more points but had trouble walking with the ball and was called on numerous occasions for traveling.

Second to Krichbaum in scoring was Davy Hunter who chalked up 11 of his 13 tallies in the second half. Dave was the take-charge guy in the second 12 minutes as he displayed all-around finesse.

Another Salem sparkplug was Tony Everett. Tony played his best game of the year as he came off the bench late in the second period and helped out Hunter brilliantly in front court with his fine ball handling and rebounding skill.

Paul Herman, Ed Yates and Tim Burchfield also contributed largely to what can be termed a great team effort.

Pacing the Hubbard Eagles was the duo scoring threat, Joe Dubyak and Nick Novosel with 16 and 22 markers respectively. Both boys canned 50 per cent of their field goals.

In the shooting department the Quakers meshed 38 per cent of their field goal attempts connecting on 18 of 47 tries. At the free throw line they bagged 16 of 35 tries for a 46 per cent average.

Hubbard came out on the long end of the statistics. The Eagles meshed 39 per cent of their fielders hitting on 15 of 39 attempts and at the charity stripe the host five had a hot night as they tossed in 20 of 31 gift shots for a percentage of 64.

Salem now advances in the tour-

Michigan Upsets Rival Spartans

By JOE MOOSHL

The Associated Press
Indiana gained its revenge and Michigan State didn't. As a result the two teams share the title in one of the daffiest Big Ten basketball races in history.

Michigan State fell before arch-rival Michigan, 81-72, and Indiana avenged its most humiliating defeat of the season Monday night by whipping Illinois, 84-76. Ohio State, which also could have grabbed a share of the crown, was forced to settle for a third place tie with Minnesota by dropping a 76-69 decision to the Gophers.

Michigan State goes to the NCAA championships because Indiana had last represented the Big Ten in 1954.

Wisconsin stumbled out of the Big Ten cellar with an 82-69 victory over Northwestern and Purdue finished in a tie for fifth by beating Iowa 72-63.

As expected, all of the home teams were victorious. Only one game remains in Big Ten activity and that'll be played before a regional television audience Saturday afternoon with Wisconsin at Iowa.

Michigan State, riding a 10-game winning streak after three initial losses, went to Ann Arbor to avenge an earlier 70-69 loss to Michigan. But the Spartans were never in the running as Michigan took a 52-34 halftime lead and coasted into a fifth-place tie with Purdue.

Ron Kramer, Michigan's remarkable athlete, ended his college cage career with 21 points to lead the Wolverines. Larry Hedden was tops for Michigan State with 20.

Indiana, defeated earlier by Illinois, 112-91, came from behind in the second half to tumble the Illini to their first second division finish in 13 years. Favored to win the title, Illinois finished seventh with a 7-7 record.

Illinois held a 41-35 halftime lead but the Hoosiers finished with five players scoring in double figures as Archie Dees, the Big Ten's "Big Man" led all scorers with 25 points. Harv Schmidt topped Illinois with 22.

Ohio State had to settle for a third-place tie rather than a share of the crown mainly because of Minnesota's free-throw accuracy. The Bucks topped the Gophers from the field, 27 goals to 26, but Minnesota canned 24 of 34 free throws while OSU could only hit on 15 of 26.

Wisconsin yielded the cellar for the first time this year, exchanging places with Northwestern. However, the Badgers will have to beat Iowa Saturday or finish in a tie with Northwestern.

Eight Teams Pared Tonight In City Class B Tourney

The city league Class B playoff basketball tourney gets underway in high gear this evening as eight of nine teams entered in the single elimination tournament will see action.

Each of the quintets competing in this post-season fray earned the right to do so by ending the regular season in ninth place or better.

Charles "Rusty" Tomlinson, assistant manager of the Memorial building, explains that the winner of the eight-team tourney will then meet the league-winning Souders Engineer five in the best two-of-three finals match.

Souders was assured a berth in the tournament by copying league honors. They now will await the winner of the playoff involving the second through ninth place teams in order to determine the overall Class B tourney victor.

Opponents and times for tonight's games at the Memorial building are:

7 p.m., Petrucci's vs Gasco.

8 p.m., Lisbon Lumber vs Salem Tool.

9 p.m., Thomas Westville vs Suburban Market.

10 p.m., Bloomberg's vs Electric Furnace.

The winners in games A and B will play Wednesday night at 10 p.m. with the victors of games C and D meeting Wednesday at 9 p.m.

Yankee pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen played for the 1950 Wichita team when it was in the Class A Western Assn. Wichita now is in the AAA American Assn.

'Right-To-Work' Law Proposed Again

Legislature Nears Record For New Bills Introduced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some time late today the Ohio Legislature might set a new record for bill introduction.

This is the last day the 102nd General Assembly will accept proposals for new laws or changes in old ones.

In the race to beat the deadline, lawmakers introduced 166 bills Monday night to bring the session total to 1,017.

On deadline day in 1955, legislators introduced 434 bills. If today is anywhere near a match for the deadline day two years ago, the 1955 record total of 1,355 will be surpassed.

When the dust settles from the big bill-introduction flurry, a number of lawmakers are going to be astonished at the content of the bills they are sponsoring.

In dozens of instances Monday night, newsmen asked legislators to explain bills they had just introduced and got the answer:

"I don't know. The bill was just handed to me a few minutes ago."

Such bills come from lobbyists and other representatives of "pressure groups." But such last-minute measures have practically as good a chance of final enactment as bills introduced earlier.

Of the 434 introduced on "deadline day" two years ago, 91 became law—something more than 20 per cent. Slightly fewer than 25 per cent of all bills eventually become law.

A couple of loud echoes from the 1955 session were heard in bills introduced Monday night.

One was a bill to prohibit a public school pupil from being a member of a secret society—a fraternity or sorority, in short.

A similar proposal got stuck in the Senate Rules Committee two years ago after it got a resounding vote in the House. The new proposal would provide expulsion for youngsters who persist in secret-society membership. It prohibits the wearing of fraternity or sorority jewelry on school property.

Another echo was reintroduction of the "right to work" bill, a proposed law to guarantee that there shall be no picketing to interfere

Practice Spelling List

Here is another practice word list, for use in preparing for the district spelling contests preliminary to the finals at Canton on April 26. The words below are some of the favorites used in bees over the years.

denim	enthusiasm	recede
chemistry	haughty	reconcile
deceit	haughty	reciprocal

anxiety	miniature	evacuate
buzzard	lacerate	saucily
	laudatory

with free access to industrial plants and provide fines for those who seek to compel union membership. In 1955 the bill produced oratory but no action.

While bill introduction was in full swing, the House managed to pass two bills and send them to the Senate.

One would license commercial driver training schools and their instructors. It was approved, 118-7.

Another would advance from Jan. 1 to Jan. 20 the deadline for county auditor registration on dogs more than three months old. It was approved, 122-0.

The House scheduled a vote today on a bill to lower license fees for private motor transit coaches to $10 a year. Some now pay as high as $300.

Monday night's bumper crop of bills included measures to:

Revise the state racing law to prohibit interlocking interests in tracks, increase the membership of the Ohio Racing Commission, make appointments to the commission subject to Senate confirmation and increase the salary of the commission secretary.

Exempt homesteads of retired persons 65 or older from taxation.

Permit re-registration of voters by mail in counties under 100,000.

Set up an identification card system for liquor purchases. Prohibit picketing of funeral homes.

Extend jurisdiction of the Circleville Municipal Court countywide. Extend the state poor relief tax on public utilities another two years.

Tax juke boxes $50 a year for education of retarded children. Require non-profit corporations to renew registrations annually.

Permit up to a year's suspension of driver licenses for violations. Create a state advisory board on atomic energy.

Exempt special election days from the liquor sale ban on election days.

Allow arrests for drunk driving on the testimony of two or more witnesses.

Require auto inspection once or twice a year with $1.50 fee. Permit municipal courts to establish small-claims divisions.

Classify an attempt to break and enter in the daytime as a felony. Establish the top fine for damaging public utility property at $1,000 and set the prison term at one to three years.

Require auto inspection on request of the Ohio Highway Patrol, set up a point system for revocation of driver licenses of habitual offenders and set a standard of alcohol weight in blood as a prima facie evidence of drunk driving.

Repeal the 1955 law which gives the State Board of Education the authority to grant or deny transfer of school district territory in connection with a municipal annexation.

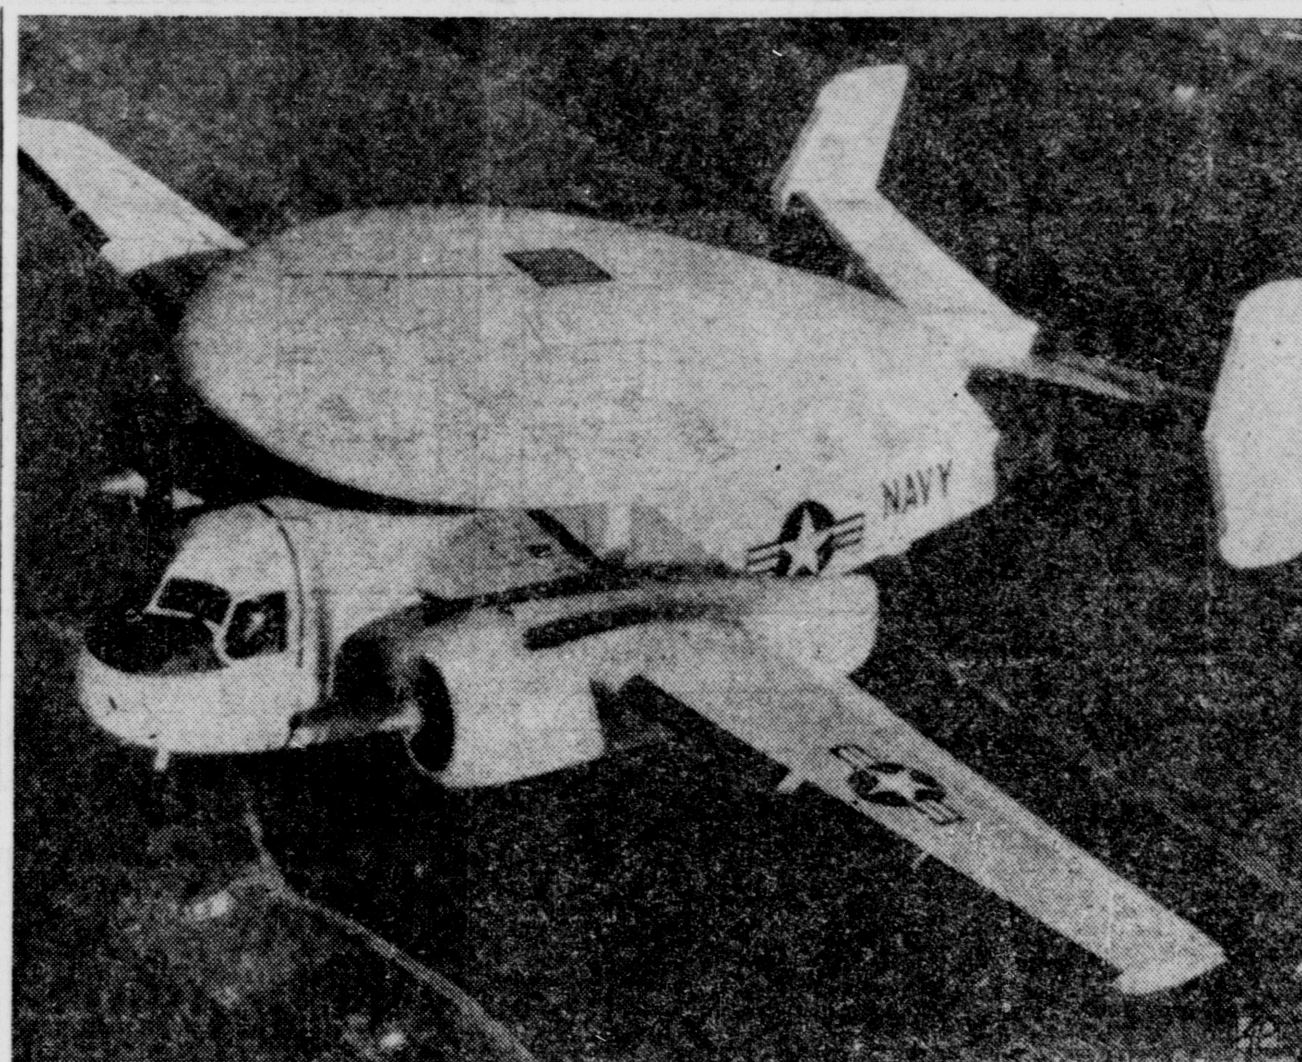

Authorize appointments of notaries with statewide powers. Prohibit approval of a municipal annexation if it reduces the assessed valuation of a township below the January 1955 valuation or if it reduces the township valuation by more than 5 per cent per capita.

Permit creation of special classes for gifted children. Slash taxes on beer and ale in half.

Convey two state-owned canal tracts to the city of St. Marys. Limit school transportation costs to $20 per transported pupil.

Exempt school buses from the state sales tax. Increase top unemployment benefits from $3 to $42 a week.

Create a state office of local government to aid Ohio communities in solving their problems; set the director's salary at $12,000. Permit the State Board of Education to charter elementary schools.

Knowland Won't Rule Self Out Of Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican leader Knowland (Calif.) has declined to rule out the possibility he might seek the GOP presidential nomination in 1960.

In a recorded radio interview Monday, Knowland said in response to questions on the 1960 presidential situation:

"I don't think any person... can say in 1957 what the conditions may be in 1960. I neither ruled it in nor ruled it out."

Knowland has announced plans to retire from the Senate at the expiration of his term in January 1959. Told that some view this as a step toward seeking the California governorship, then the presidency, Knowland replied:

"I have neither opened nor closed any doors."

Seek Action On Ohio's Growing Water Needs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A legislative committee called today for positive action to meet growing water consumption in Ohio. The committee approved a report warning that, with ever-growing water consumption, the state is close to a "final accounting." It added "a fully qualified authority" is needed to study water conservation problems.

A bill calling for creation of a governor's committee of nine to make the study will be introduced today by Sen. William Trell (R-Preble).

The report said one of the most pressing needs "is for sites for water reservoirs. Nature has provided us with enough rainfall. It has not given us a surplus in water reservoir sites."

Rules Appointees Can Draw Higher Salaries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Appointive state officials can draw the higher salaries voted recently by the Legislature, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled today.

The opinion answered a question raised by Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Saxbe said that a constitutional ban against an officer receiving a pay increase during his existing term does not apply to those serving "at the pleasure of the governor" or to hold-overs whose terms expired.

The attorney general held in effect that tenure "at the pleasure of the governor" or after the expiration of the term was not an "existing term" within the meaning of the state constitution.

Rhodes said that as a result of the ruling William C. Bryant could draw the higher salary for the office of state liquor director between Jan. 14 when the Legislature increased the pay of appointive officials and Jan. 20 when Bryant resigned to become an Appellate Court judge.

The legislative increase boosted the liquor director's salary from $12,000 to $18,000 a year. The Legislature also increased salaries of appointive state officials about $6,000 a year.

PEOPLE PICTURES

If you look at your own collection of pictures you'll probably find that the ones you like best are of people.

That puts you in the same class with most photographers. Seems like a lot of us find the camera a convenient way of catching people in a way we want to remember them.

But, you may have found that grownups often "freeze" when you aim a camera at them. If that's been your experience, here's a simple tip. Pretend that you've taken a picture. Then, when your subject relaxes, snap your picture!

We found this idea spelled out on page 11 of a booklet called "Snapshots Exposed." This helpful little book costs only 35 cents but it's packed with all kinds of tips about getting better pictures. A few moments spent going through the pages will give you plenty of hints on how to make the most of every snapshot occasion.

There are a number of excellent books dealing with every phase of photography. We have most of them right here. Why not stop in and browse.
